Subject: leave Microsoft alone.

without them there would be no computer industry. I started out twelve years ago with an apple 2C and progressed to a PC. Microsoft made it possible for the unsophisticated operator to learn to operate a computer.

Without windows there would have been no computer industry like it is today. They built a better mousetrap and the world beat a path to their door. It created a huge industry which benefited the federal government with more tax income due to the many companies that sold computers. Stay off their back and be glad they are in business.
